

"IT'S A BOY!"—The Story of Baby David Continued, DFO-81
 —Chap. 9: "This Little Brown Prince Caused Three Revolutions!"
 —By BARA

1. HOW DO YOU BEGIN THE STORY of the King and the Queen's little brown prince? We've always considered him a King too, not just a prince, because ever since the very early beginning at birth, he was special. I guess that's the most important thing to emphasize from the start, that he is special, exceptional, and Dad has always said to me,

2. "NOW REMEMBER, HONEY, HE'S DIFFERENT. I've known a lot of children and had plenty of my own, but he sure is special, an exceptional child. So don't expect every baby to be like him. It must be something spiritual."

3. IT WOULD TAKE A BOOK to describe his character, but just for an introduction he is Little David. He's Canarian, he's extremely intelligent and he is beautiful enough to be a girl! His birth started both a new Childcare Revolution and an FF Revolution in Tenerife, and he'll probably finish both!

4. AND HE'S CAUSED A REVOLUTION OF LOVE in each of our own lives. I'd let him speak for himself, but he's much too busy with his books and cars and daily discovery of his new world to be bothered with retrospect.

5. IT'S SO FUNNY, we're so used to letting him express himself so freely and emphatically that I feel sort of like half the real story is missing without letting him do the real talking. I have learned so much through this one little boy, because he has been taught by the most wonderful Mommy and Daddy in the whole world.

6. THEIR LIFE WAS LOVE, and all because Daddy loved Mommy and shared Mommy to love another. Our God of Love gave us this little love baby who has taught us to love thousands of others. --And love begets love begets love!

7. IN THESE LAST TWO YEARS of the six that I have been with this Family of Love, I have relearned everything all over again, and little David taught me. I speak on the part of all of his helpers, because I'm not the only one.

8. MY HUSBAND ALFRED AND I were asked to come help Dad and Maria with the baby when he was almost two months old. Alfred and I had worked in Spain before, and he had experience in translating and I in childcare. We had been living apart for eleven months in Italy because of our different ministries.

9. WE WERE NEVER SO SURPRISED as when Rachel called us in one day to say, "MO and Maria need some helpers and they'd like to know if you could come and help them."

10. WE DIDN'T KNOW WHERE OR WHEN we'd go, but the Lord had given me a wonderful dream a few days prior to that, that we had arrived in a new place and there was a little brown baby with huge beautiful eyes lying on the
