

(DAD: Only a phone call or report away!) I don't know. When I called the L.A. colony to pick up the message from the Family News, it all swelled up in me and I began to cry, that after trying so hard for so many years, I'm not even welcome to visit any of the colonies in the area where I am. This was mistakenly taken for bitterness. It seems that the only way to go on is to be a bit more independent (DAD: You have been for a long time! - That's your choice, which I'm sure you've wanted to be for a long time! - Let's face it, Son: You never did like working with me! - and you're finally enjoying your freedom!) as my health is not as good as it used to be and I have become concerned over my heart. (DAD: - Sorry. But it's always hard to have faith for health when you're out of God's will! - You've also been drinking too much a long time!)

I just don't think I could withstand too much more of the type of events I just went through. I take these things pretty hard. (DAD: "The way of the transgressor is hard!") and I honestly thought this last one was going to kill me. So may God's will be in this whole matter, I'm so sorry I have always been a bone of contention, and a stumbling rock. (DAD: - We're sorry too!)

We all love you, and pray for you, we are glad you're feeling better now. Praise the Lord. May God bless and keep you.

Love, your son, Jethro.

P.S. We would like to have the belongings left in Peru. (DAD: You know our rules: "Forsake all"! - Especially when you leave the Family! - You can't take it with you. - However, we've told them to send you your personal effects only - clothing, etc. - All else is Family property, as you well know! All our household goods were left for the work - only packed were personal items and clothes of Joy and mine which will not do anybody very much good, but we would like to keep the keepsakes collected over the years. Also, Deb's files and library takes up the most room, 10 or 15 trunks (DAD: You know these are not hers when leaving the Family. - But we've asked for a complete inventory of the contents, and will send what we can.) but she would like to keep it as it will help her in her future writings (DAD: - Who for?) and we don't think anyone else will use them. Please may we have what's left, we tried to forgo everything that could be used there. What's left means a lot to us. Our former disciple has a shipping company and will help us. Please. We only tried to pack the things we wanted and needed - the trunks there are for 17 people (DAD: Who are they?) plus a school (DAD: - Belongs to the Family and not you! - and you know it!), it's really not much. Please help us! (DAD: Since you are neither obeying nor reporting your full activities and have Isaiah with you, we certainly cannot give you what we promised, as you've left the Family obviously. However, in view of your past work, large family, hardship case and our sympathy for a backslider, we will continue to send 1/2 as much to help you out - provided we receive a full, detailed, monthly report of your activities from each of you: You, Deb and Big Joy, as well as a full account of what has happened thus far from each of you and why you each think you should continue to receive our help despite your disobediences! You must also promise to leave the U.S. as soon as possible. As soon as we hear from all 3 of you, we'll make our decision. - Until then there will be no further checks! - Sorry! - We don't support backsliders!)

Mail will be forwarded. We are moving around. (DAD: - So we notice - but not where and as you were asked to! - Too bad! So sad! - Your-Dad 16/10.)

LET IT PASS!

by Grandmother

I don't stoop my friend to answer back,
Why not just LET IT PASS?
You'll find this giving word for word
Will never pay, alas!

Though 'tis true of human nature
This giving tit for tat,

Yet truly happy folks have found
A better way than that.

And though it seems impossible
It's better in the end

To let them have their way, and then

Just LET IT PASS, my friend.

I know sometimes it's very hard,
And seems it can't be done,
But if you'll learn this better way
A victory will be won;

For you will save what's so worthwhile

Both time and feelings, too,

When you ignore what has been said,

Don't try to argue through.

For then you'll know without a doubt

'Twas better in the end,

To let them have their way, and then

Just LET IT PASS, my friend.

Long ago, was One who
Wouldn't stoop
To answer back again,
But silently bore the tauntings
Of cruel relentless men;
Brought to the slaughter as a lamb
No blemish, His, or spot
Though He was oppressed, afflicted,
His mouth, He opened not."

And why? - I think I understand,
'Twas better in the end

We should know by His example
Just LET IT PASS, my friend.

The book contains many more poems along with a full book of poems.

Always order paperback books, if possible.

Ask parents and friends in the U.S.A. to mail several copies of the books so you can share them with others in your area.

The "Recommended Book List" is for your benefit in purchasing good children's educational aides and has been approved by many, many helpful Family mothers, teachers and children! We hope it helps in suggesting good teaching materials for our little prophets!

God bless you! - Sara Davidito.

I'M SORRY!

The hardest words there are to say,
I seem to need them every day.
As new light shines on the darkened
past
And things I missed I see at last!
Those around that needed Love
I couldn't see from high above.
But now that we all stand the same,
I'm sometimes brought to tears of shame.

Thank God His Shepherd loves us all
And even tho' it hurts to fall,
Like lofty branches of a tree

When we're laid low we feel more free -

Not to have to try so much,
To hide our human need to touch
The children who would like to play
So I thank God for this new day!
Bless David, Lord, and keep us near
To the vision he holds so dear!
Thank You that the winter's past
And all your children are free at last!

HELPFUL HINTS ON HEALTH! -by SARA DAVIDITO

the tongue after a meal containing the most fat.

Brewer's Yeast is a good reducing food. It contains almost no fat, starch or sugar and it satisfies the appetite and gives you the energy you need to work off the kilos.

Start slowly by taking a half-teaspoon of yeast in a glass of juice until your system can adjust. The more trouble you have with gas from taking yeast, the more it shows you need it because you have a vitamin B deficiency.

Find a brand that tastes good and keep at it, increasing slowly until you can take a big heaping spoonful in a glass of juice, milk, soup or in yogurt with honey.

Don't eat uncooked baker's yeast, as it grows in the intestine and absorbs vitamin B! Powdered brewer's yeast is preferable to flaked yeast, which usually has a lower vitamin content, and tablets have the lowest content.
