OUR KUTE KIDZ!

WHILE WE WERE WAITING AT THE SUPERMARKET
checkout, Julia-3 looked up at the cigarettes on sale & said in a very serious tone, "You know what Mum? Those cigarettes are not good for you because they've got white sugar in them!"
—Robyn: Australia.

DADDY WAS BURYING A LOCAL DOG that had been poisoned, & we wanted to explain to Joy-4. When we asked, "Do you know what happens if you eat poison?" Joy responded, "Yes, you get holes in your teeth!"
—Damien & Rainbow Mideast.

WHILE WEIGHING OURSELVES AT A PHARMACY, we didn't have enough change to weigh all the kids too. Mark -4 said, "I really want to weigh myself!" I said, "Mark, the world won't collapse if you don't weigh yourself." He thought for a second & then said, "The world is going to collapse, so I better weigh myself!"

—FN Home.

"HEY MOM! NOW I REALLY KNOW AMERICA'S GOING TO FALL!" And it won't be long either! exclaimed Andrew-7 upon returning from school one day. "Why honey? What happened?" "Well, at school today I was outside walking along & I stopped for a minute to look up at the American flag. All of a sudden it just fell to the ground right in front of my eyes! And some people came & tried to put it up again, & they couldn't do it! So I know it's going to happen, soon!"
—Moriah.

Training Our Children On The Field!

-With A Special Thanks To Family Care!

From Ben & Mirjam; Indonesia: to be pioneering in Manado--by We are a family with 5 children his own request! He is keeping in SE Asia. And while the oldest were still young, we had time to pour into them. However as the younger 3 came along I began finding it difficult to have as much time for them as well. So we put the oldest 2 in school (Jozef in 2d grade & Ronny in 1st). At first, they were excited and happy about it as they found many new friends and freedoms. But school also taught them to endure hardness as good soldiers of Jesus Christ, learning to relate to other children.

After 2 years, our 3rd son also joined them in 1st grade. We found the first 3 grades to benefit our children curriculumwise & also taught them lessons of cooperation and faithfulness.

However, as Jozef finished 3rd grade and moved into 4th, we could see that the pressure was increasing on him to conform to system standards. The curriculum, too, was becoming increasingly irrelevant to what we were trying to teach at home. By this time, too, Jozef was thoroughly fed up with the school pressuring him to the system ways, while we try to encourage him to put God and His service first. We saw that we needed to help him make the right choice by taking him out of school. Now Jozef is happy

In 2 months, we will be pioneering on another island where there'll be no school available. Looking back over it, we believe school has been a good experience for the children. It has taught them to appreciate the Spirit and the love they have at home. As parents, it's also caused us to get closer to them and to discuss with them any outstanding experiences at school. Jozef and Ronny both went through a period of dishonesty and even stealing. For example, when Jozef was in charge of the transport money he sometimes claimed that he lost it. We had to severely discipline them for stunts like these until they got the point. It really taught them that they had their own responsibility before the Lord in choosing between right and wrong. In this way, their eyes were opened to a lot of the System's fallacies--while they were still at an age to receive it from us. Having the children in school, impressed us with the urgency of keeping them faithfully in the Word and memorizing in order to combat the system's influence. We usually had 2 hours of Word study and memory work daily. We had just finished I, II Samuel and I noticed how much the kids looked forward to their nightly "episode" of the Bible--and I did too! Just as we were looking around for a new Word project along came the "Dito" Book with its Bible Curr. sections. Thanks to Maria & Sara's inspired ideas, we started on a study of Acts and found that we could center all the schoolwork around the powerful theme of the Early Church! And also accomplish more in 2½ hours than the school did in 5! As the oldest ones are now far enough along to do individual Word projects, my hands are freer for the younger ones.

So we found that the Word works! The children love it more than anything else--by their own choice! We are so thankful for these anointed FC materials that make it possible to teach our children in a Godly way.

HANDICAPPED? IT'S A BLESSING!

LESSONS GAINED WITH A HANDICAPPED CHILD, NOW WITH JESUS AGAIN!
From Nimshi & Merryheart, S.A.:

HERE ARE SOME TESTIMONIES ABOUT OUR LITTLE 2 YR. OLD GIRL, JULIANA, who is Mongoloid & a very special blessing to our family. "Are You Deaf?" was so inspiring to us because we can see where Juliana's handicap is a relection of our own spiritual growth & it's very humbling, TTL!

AFTER WE READ THIS LETTER SHE LEARNED TO HOLD HER BOTTLE BY HERSELF, & Nimshi said, "Maybe that means we're learning to hold our bottle (the Letters) ourselves!"

SO MUCH WE'VE LEARNED FROM HER; one of the biggest lessons is faith in God instead of doctors. In the beginning we allowed her to "suffer many things at the hands of physicians".

BUT NOW WHEN SHE GETS SICK WE ASK THE LORD TO HAVE HIS WAY--"PILL OR PILGRIMAGE?" & it always ends up a big testimony, TYJ! No matter where we are with her, it seems the subject of medicine is brought up & right away Juliana is a little witness for the truth!

LIKE DAD SAYS, "MONGOLOIDS HAVE SUCH A SWEET SPIRIT." I read where they are born with an extra chromosome & it inspired me so much.

GOD GAVE THEM SOMETHING EXTRA when it seems like they're missing something! TYJ!

Juliana, our little angel

MY COUSIN SENT ME THE BOOK, "ANGEL UNAWARES" by Dale Evans Rogers & we just cried reading it. Their little girl was so much like our little Juliana--the same heart defect & taught them so much about the Lord.

ONE DOCTOR WHO EXAMINED HER & discovered how bad her heart was said, after we'd witnessed to him, "There's nothing to do but to take the child home & love her." Isn't that beautiful?

WLYSM, TY DAD & MARIA FOR THE WORDS! We need them so! P.S. Shortly after we wrote this testimony, Juliana went to be with the Lord. All we can say is TTL.
