

The Blessings Of Obedience!

Obedience to God brings on a new conviction with new support & new precious disciples!

From Jeremiah & Chen; U.S.A.

Dear Family,

God bless you all for your labours of love! Thanks so much for your faithfulness!

Just recently the Lord has caused no small stir in our part of the world. I had just quit my system job in the oil field where I was making more money than ever before, & with my decision God met me & honoured my obedience by opening the doors to invade some local churches! We put an ad in the paper & received a couple of calls from pastors who wanted to help us. In the newspaper we shared our desire to head south of the border as missionaries and that we needed supporters! Out here live mostly country folk, so the people are simple & easy to get along with. That's about the only thing that has been a real blessing & has encouraged us to work in the Church Ministry in the States.

A pastor had us come to his service & invited us to dinner to get to know us better before we performed with the children. Well, he agreed to let us sing & share a little with his congregation & to our surprise he took a love offering which amounted to $100! TYJ! The girls were really good & the people just fell in love with them.

Shortly afterwards a different pastor from another church called & invited us to his church & said that I could have the whole service & to bring the message for that night's service! Well, the Lord had to do the miracle & He did! TTL!

I shared parts out of the letter "Little Things" & it was a blessing to just see the serious faces of the people light up & receive the words of David! The children performed again & were a real blessing & such a convicting witness many. The pastor there agreed on sending us monthly support, PG!

Also there was some fruit won by visiting a 7th Day Adventist Church.

Our beautiful new disciple, Kathy (she joined with her 4 daughters)

So it's off to greener fields-south! On our way down we plan on visiting another church in a major city in Texas & the pastor has said that he would "support us above & beyond what we had expected". He had met my wife on a previous road trip, & the kids had sang & witnessed in his church. So God is faithful to lead & guide us & bless us, if we obey! God bless you Dad for your counsel & inspiration. All we can do to show our appreciation is to give our all to Jesus! Thanks again, we love you!

("To obey is better than sacrifice, & to hearken than the fat of rams!" ## Endtime Flannelgraph Makes It Simple!

How You Can Use It!

From Manasses: S.E. Asia

The Lord opened the door for me to teach at two Bible studies. Our laundry maid belongs to a Bible study group of fifty to seventy members, and she was very interested in the Endtime events, after seeing the new colorful Endtime chart on our front-room wall. She worked it out for us to attend their class and teach Daniel 2 using the Flannelgraph. It proved to be so helpful in explaining these Endtime events. All the members are from the province, so you have to keep it very simple. After the class, many of them exclaimed how simple it was to understand, giving credit to the Flannelgraph. TYJ!

Two weeks later I taught them Daniel 7, again using the Flannelgraph. What a blessing!

Nine of our children in the area LAF came along to sing in the local language and in English. The smaller ones ages 4-7 yrs. quoted Bible verses boldly.

We are so thankful to World Services and Dad for these teaching tools to make our job easier. We love you all!

Miriam Pilgrim 1/82

Dear Family,

This is to notify you that Miriam Pilgrim went to be with the Lord on Tuesday March 2, 1982. Miriam had cancer for 6 years previous to her death, but remained faithful to the Lord and His Service during this time. PTL.

Miriam spent most of her life here in service to the Lord, starting out with the Salvation Army, and ending with us.

She worked with youth groups and sang and street witnessed as a teenager and young woman and carried on this work while raising her family of seven children. Two of her sons are now in full-time service in the Family and all her other children are reading letters & listening to the MWM tapes.

Miriam first met the Family in 1972 when her son Isaiah Bird first joined. She became closely involved and was in charge of Thank Cog for all of Canada. A couple of years later, at the age of 56, she forsook all and became a full-time member. It was soon after this Miriam discovered she had cancer and underwent a mastectomy. She showed great courage and determination during this time and even spent sometime on a foreign field.

In the last couple of years Miriam became weak physically, but kept up her mail ministry, and was faithfully tithing and supporting brethren in mission fields. Right until the end, Miriam was always positive and uplifting and was a tremendous testimony to the Doctors and nurses who tended her.

I had the blessing and privilege to be by her side when she peacefully went to be with the Lord and learned many valuable lessons from the experience. Mostly how short the time is, and how much we have to do. PTL, it's never too late for love.

To Whom it May Concern:

People are still asking me what I think of John Todd. I think he appeared on the scene at a very critical time to give us vital information on subjects that most Christians were not even aware of. To say the least, it was startling to find out about the infiltration of Masonry and witchcraft into our churches, and to share what he knew of the sinister plots by the Illuminati as well as the control of the youth through Druid rock music. There was a price to pay for hitting these organizations and John has dearly paid for it. Powerful sources were determined to destroy him and I believe his testimony has been almost totally shattered by their counter-attack. John's name is now a dirty word in many Christian circles. His life, before coming to Christ, was in the pit of hell. After trying to warn the Christians of what he knew, and was rejected, he backed off, I knew what took place when he backed off, but through love and patience, and telling him Christ still loved them both, he and Sheila came back knowing full well that what they were going to expose in churches would cost them everything. They didn't know who to trust. John helped me with two more publications. I picked his brains on different subjects, then had the information checked by other sources to make sure it was accurate before going to press. The rest of the story is history. He blasted from the pulpit and hit big names. I warned him not to, but it was too late. There was so much in his past life, and when he backed off, it was all used against him. He didn't stand a chance. No mercy was shown. Too much big money, too many pressures, threats and power were used behind the scenes. I know both sides of the story and it is a tragedy. No one mentioned the major investigation that was made by Col. Curtis Dall (the man who knows more about the Illuminati than anyone in the U.S.). His findings were that John Todd was indeed a Grand Druid and he was exactly what he claimed to be, but this didn't appear in the Christian publications. It was a one-sided barrage, tailored to destroy their target, and it was very effective. No one turned the other cheek. As a result of John Todd cracking the door on this information, many doors started opening with others coming forth. Some are afraid they'll get what John did and they remain silent, especially those from deep inside the occult. John Todd is his own man. Where he goes in the future or says is his own business. No one can speak for another person nor can even know what anyone will say or do. He came into my life and has gone on his way. I occasionally hear from him. What do I think of Todd? I believe he is saved and a brother in Christ. I pray for him every day, and so should other Christians. I prayed about putting his name in my publications and the Lord said yes. His name remained in my books until his ministry was destroyed. There is no longer an address to which we may refer our readers, so the last printings of the books do not include his name and address.

Yours for the lost,

Jack Chick
