THE CROSS-RIPPLE EFFECT

Art by Shae

In the world to come you will be able to see how far your prayers have gone. In that day, when you are with Me in Heaven, part of your reward will be to see what your prayers accomplished.

Thank You, Jesus, for helping us to find You.

Please help the missionaries to win lots of souls, Jesus.

Come into my heart, Jesus.

Now that we have Jesus, let's tell others about Him!

Just say this prayer with me.

This is the fruit of your prayers.

So many things happen as a result of your prayers. Your prayers have a great ripple effect on the world.

No prayer stands alone. One prayer fills many purposes and is multiplied many times over. Through one prayer, your faith is increased.

Jesus healed me, Mom.

Wow! That's a real testimony!

Listen to this!

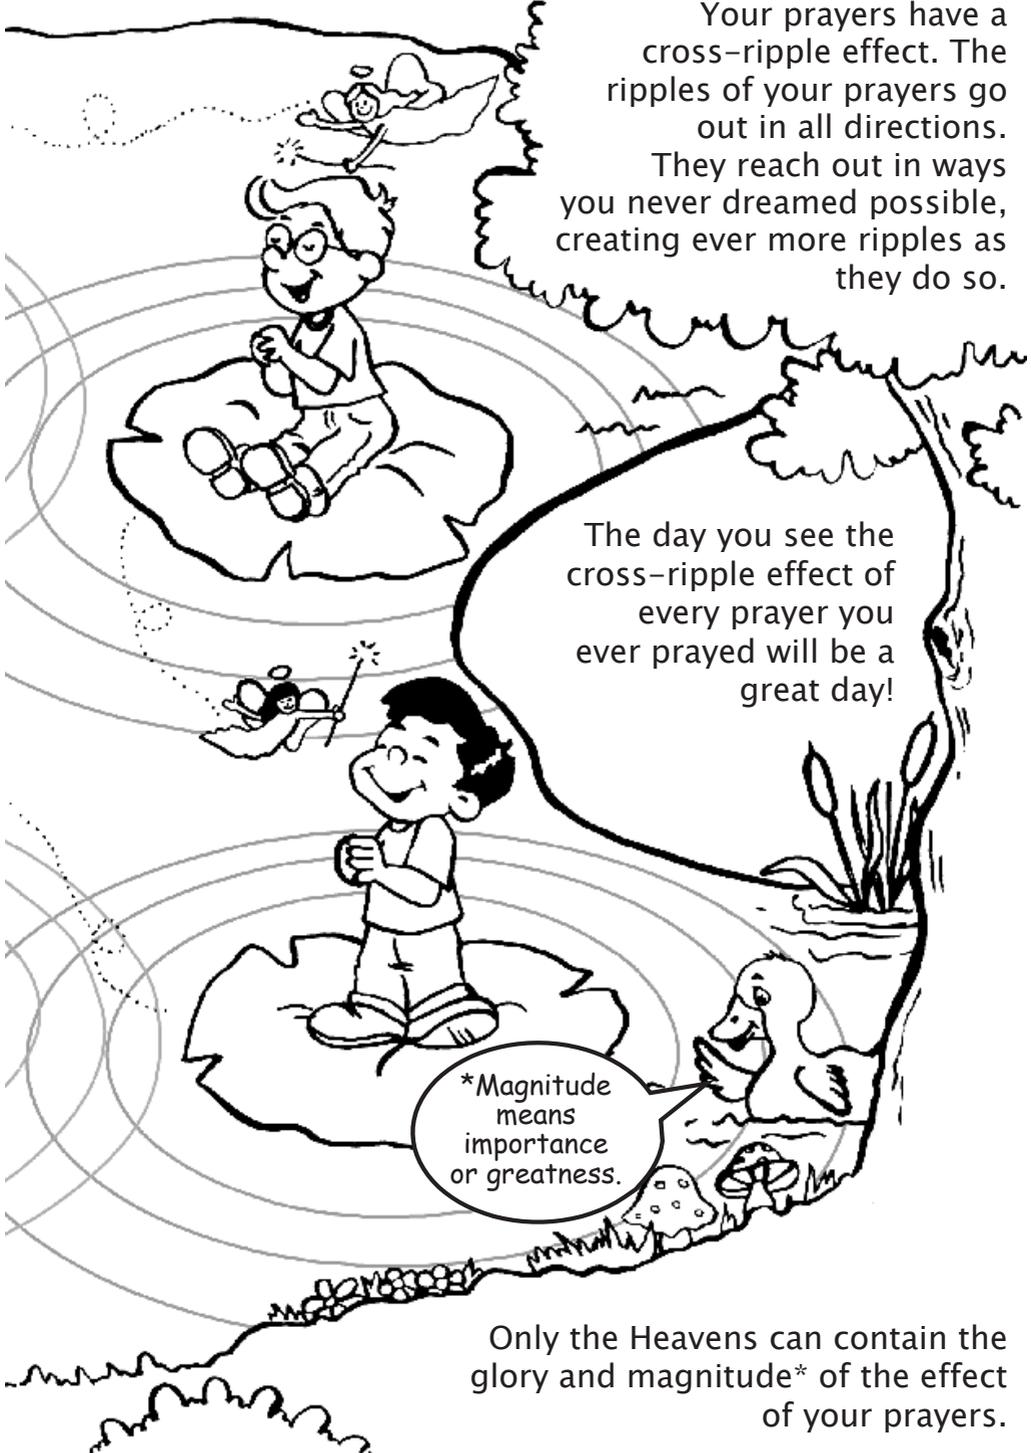

That's amazing! I should share that with Phil.

When others hear of the answer to prayer, their faith is often increased as well. This increase of faith then continues bearing fruit (bringing results) as it goes along. Your prayers have a ripple effect. On and on they go, bearing fruit in many ways.

Your prayers not only create ripples, but when they bounce off others, they are reflected in more ripples, which in turn bounce and reflect even more.

They go backwards and forwards, up and down, top to bottom, from side to side, over and above and beyond.

Your prayers have a cross-ripple effect. The ripples of your prayers go out in all directions.

They reach out in ways you never dreamed possible, creating ever more ripples as they do so.

The day you see the cross-ripple effect of every prayer you ever prayed will be a great day!

*Magnitude means importance or greatness.

Only the Heavens can contain the glory and magnitude* of the effect of your prayers.

Your prayers cause a great cross-ripple effect as they go out to reach hearts, to save souls, to encourage and lift up ...

For each rock we throw, let's say a prayer for someone ...

And start a ripple of prayer!

... and to bring great victories to the people you pray for and to many others as well.
