Some people seem to think that affection between women is unnatural. Well, I think it should be natural! The Bible says affection is natural between everybody and those who don't have it are "lacking in natural affection." (Rom. 13:1, 2 Tim. 3:3)

Question: "But women were made for men and not for each other, so isn't it normal if they have feelings of inhibition?" No! That comes strictly from the culture, and to me that is what is unnatural! It's much more natural for them to feel a gravitation to each other. Girls are very intimate in their friendships. It's a God-given thing because they're the weaker vessel and God makes them stick together!

Question: "But isn't it natural to feel it's unnatural to lie together in bed and love and caress each other?" I think it's unnatural to think it's unnatural! What's wrong with a few caresses? Women are naturally very affectionate toward each other. If you feel strangely about it, then your attitude is not right! The whole Family's affectionate. You see, the Lord's pretty affectionate too! If there is real love there's nothing wrong with it! Affection is natural!!
David and Jonathan had a natural affection. (2Sam. 1:26) Jesus loved John the Beloved even more than Mary and Martha! It says that he was the disciple who was leaning on Jesus' bosom. That was pretty affectionate. The only prohibition in the Bible is men making love with men and particularly anal intercourse, which is bad for men or women! And since it is harmful it wouldn't be in love. I would hesitate to say that boys could be that affectionate to each other, until I was mighty sure from the Lord that it's O.K. Personally I don't go for it and it was certainly condemned in the Scriptures, both Old and New Testament!

"John the Beloved" was the disciple Jesus loved!

Wow! Maybe someone up there does love me!

I am God's love for you!

Once again, it's the difference between real love and affection and lust! Sexual love and affection is a natural desire and natural pleasurable feeling, but lust is if you're overly desirous and greedy. You exalt and exaggerate it out of context to where that's the big thing in your life, instead of the Lord! A relationship can be normal, abnormal or subnormal. With a lot of husbands and wives it's subnormal, they don't have much affection, sex or love!

A subnormal relationship. She doesn't love me anymore!

Enjoy sex! Just do what comes naturally!

End.
